Workers' Dormitory Specialist

Better things to come. We believe that Centurion's purposebuilt dormitory business is scalable, particularly in economic areas which rely heavily on foreign-sourced workers. Given its success in executing its aggressive bed growth strategy so far, we are optimistic about the Group's long-term potential. Maintain BUY, TP $$0.59.

Successfully executing aggressive growth strategy. Based on our estimates, net profit and EPS are forecasted to grow by a 2-year CAGR of 25% from FY14-16. Earnings will be driven by progressive completion of new purpose-built beds amounting to 80% of current bed count, as well as contribution from recently acquired student dormitory assets.

First-mover advantage in purpose-built worker dormitories in Singapore and Malaysia. Centurion currently owns and/or operates close to 45k purpose built-foreign worker dormitory beds in Singapore (24k beds) and Malaysia (20k beds), making it one of the largest purpose-built dormitory operators in the region. With an additional c.35k beds in the pipeline, we expect a 16% CAGR in bed count from 2015-2017. The Group also owns a portfolio of student dormitory assets in Singapore, Australia and the UK, totalling c.2.8k beds.

Valuation:

At its current price, Centurion is trading at 9x FY15F PE and 8x FY16F PE, which is attractive in our view. We maintain our BUY call, with a DCF-backed TP of S$0.59.

Key Risks to Our View:

Downturn in the Singapore economy. While there is still an acute supply/demand imbalance in the provision of purposebuilt dormitories for foreign work permit holders in Singapore, a sustained deterioration in Singapore's economic outlook could adversely affect demand for labour and subsequently negatively impact rents.

CRITICAL DATA POINTS TO WATCH

Earnings Drivers:

Acquisition of UK student dormitories drives earnings growth 64% of revenue growth in 1Q15 came from the student accommodation business, driven by contribution from the 1.9k-bed UK portfolio which was acquired in September 2014. Although Centurion entered the student accommodation business only in 2014, we expect this business segment (which comprises the UK portfolio and 456-bed RMIT Village in Melbourne) to contribute c.20% of Centurion's net profit in FY15. This indicates a successful execution of its strategy to diversify earnings away from purpose-built dormitories and gain exposure to the resilient student accommodation segment.

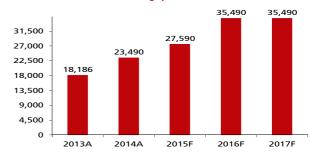

Singapore workers' dormitory operations robust amid ample supply

The Group has noted that despite a large supply progressively entering the market, demand for purpose-built beds remains strong, underpinned by workers relocating from factory-converted or illegal dormitories, as the government tightens its criteria for the issuance of factory conversion permits and clamps down on illegal dormitories. Occupancy levels at Centurion's permanent dormitories are close to 100%, and advanced bookings are healthy, according to management. Performance at Westlite Tuas has also stabilised. With Phase 1 of Wee Hur's new 16.8k-bed Tuas View dormitory reporting a c.96% take-up, occupancies at Weslite Tuas have also improved to >90% from 80-85% previously, although bed rents are still flat.

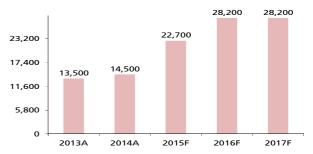

Strong pipeline of purpose-built beds in Singapore and Malaysia

In January 2015, Phase 1 of Westlite Tampoi (c.5k beds) obtained TOP, bringing total operational beds in Malaysia to c.23k. With blended occupancies of c.90% and bed rents of c.RM100 per bed per month, the Group has demonstrated an excellent track record in Malaysia, especially given that this is the first product of its kind in the country. This gives us confidence that the Group will be able to successfully export purpose-built dormitories to Penang, where it has 17k beds in the pipeline, due for completion in 2H16/1H17. In Singapore, the 4.1k-bed Westlite Woodlands has obtained TOP and will be commencing operations in 4Q15, while the 7.9k-bed ASPRI-Westlite dormitory at Jalan Papan is slated to open by 1H16. Centurion's strong pipeline of purpose-built beds in Singapore and Malaysia will provide a visible growth pipeline for the Group into the medium term.

Balance Sheet:

High gearing level a concern, but still manageable. We note that as of 1Q15, net debt/equity had risen to 1.3x as Centurion took on additional debt relating to the acquisition and development of the 9k-bed ASPRI Westlite dormitory at Jalan Papan. While its interest cover of 5x is fairly healthy, we note that rising interest rates would negatively impact the Group's profitability. However, given the amortising nature of its debt and long debt tenures of >10 years, there should be minimal refinancing risk in the near term.

Share Price Drivers:

Tighter government regulations on non-purpose-built dormitories. At this point, Centurion's purpose-built dormitories compete with other permitted forms of accommodation such as factory-converted dormitories and on-site dormitories. The government has stated its intention to move the majority of foreign workers into purpose-built dormitories, and regulations to phase out non-purpose-built dormitories would have a positive impact on market sentiment regarding Centurion's ability to grow its rental rates and maintain high occupancy levels.

Key Risks:

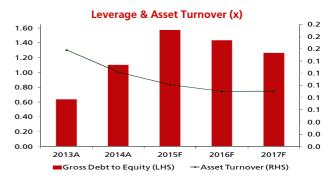

Competition from newly completed dormitories. While we believe that the 100k new bed supply over 2014-16 is digestible by the market in the medium term, the volume of supply coming into the market within a relatively short period of time could have a negative bearing on near-term bed rents, as dormitory operators seek to maximise occupancy as quickly as possible.

Downturn in the Singapore economy. While there is still an acute supply/demand imbalance in the provision of purposebuilt dormitories for foreign work permit holders in Singapore, a sustained deterioration in Singapore's economic outlook could adversely affect demand for labour and subsequently negatively impact rents.

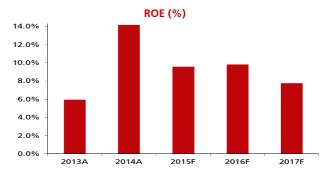

Delays Delays in construction and development could affect ramp-up. Regulatory compliance could affect Centurion's ability to operate in the most efficient manner.

Company Background

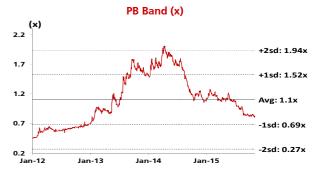

Centurion is a diversified accommodation solutions provider with exposure to foreign workers' purpose-built dormitories in Singapore and Malaysia, as well as student accommodation in Australia and the UK.
